Volleyball History: I have been a Volleyball parent over many years with my youngest child playing for Belconnen and Heat teams

Business experience

I am a Communication and Marketing professional. Prior to retiring from the public service I worked at the Senior Executive level at Medicare Australia, Department of Human Services and Department of Agriculture. In each of these roles I was responsible for marketing and communication. My experience covers implementing large communication campaigns, managing major media stories, brand management, website redesigns, implementing of social media policy, production of publications, media releases, media events and launches.

I currently work as a communication consultant with Sefton's & Associates and University of Melbourne.
